Election-Year Congress Meets

Politics To Weigh Heavily In Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 82nd Congress starts its election-year session tomorrow, with politics likely to weigh heavily in all major actions.

The next six months are expected to bring forth decisions, one way or the other, on such major matters as universal military training, foreign military and economic aid, economic controls at home, and defense spending.

Leaders are hopeful the session can wind up in time for the July political conventions. All house seats will be at stake in the November voting. So will 32 senate seats, as well as the presidency and the vice-presidency.

Because of the approaching elections, observers generally expect the session to be marked more by talk than by action.

President Truman will blueprint his legislative program in his state-of-the-union message Wednesday. That will be followed by two more messages, one on economics and the other transmitting a federal budget expected to exceed 80 billion dollars for the year starting July 1.

The President is expected to renew his request for many of the things he has sought, and failed to get, in the past. Among these are civil rights legislation, compulsory health insurance, and tougher wage, price and rent controls.

He may ask for more taxes, since Congress didn't give him as much as he wanted last year, but his chances of getting them are slim.

Congress probably will approve an extension of the Defense Production Act.

Investigations, providing heavy ammunition for political campaigns, will constitute a major legislative activity.

Costello On Trial In Contempt Case

NEW YORK (AP) — Gambler Frank Costello goes on trial today on contempt of the senate charges that arose from the Kefauver committee hearings.

The government charges that Costello, an immigrant boy who grew up to be a power in politics and the underworld, wronged the Senate crime committee 11 times in his appearances before it last March.

The committee called him before it to tell what he knew about a crime he had been reputed as a king of the underworld and maker and breaker of politicians.

The contempt charges could mean 11 years in prison and an $11,000 fine.

It won't be the 60-year-old Costello's first trip to court. He was committed in 1915 of carrying a gun—his only conviction although he often has been arrested and indicted.

48 Called To Testify Before Grand Jury

LISBON—Forty-eight witnesses have been summoned in 23 cases which Prosecuting Attorney James L. MacDonald will present to the Grand Jury beginning Tuesday.

Six cases and 17 witnesses are scheduled tomorrow, eight and 18 Wednesday, and nine and 13 Thursday.

The Grand Jury will be in session through Friday, MacDonald said, probably reporting Friday afternoon.

U.N. Truce Chief Says Reds Do Not Want Stable Peace

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky said today the Korean truce talks at Panmunjon have reached a deadlock. He urged a high level Security Council meeting to help break it.

MUNSAN, Korea—The United Nations' chief truce negotiator said today there are growing indications that the Communists do not want a stable armistice in Korea.

Today's report from Panmunjon was the now familiar "no progress."

If the Communists "are acting in good faith and sincerely want peace, there can be no reason for them to construct military airfields during the period of an armistice," said Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy. He flew to Tokyo for conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Supreme Allied commander.

"If, on the other hand, the Communists are acting in bad faith and are, in fact, preparing for war, the construction of military airfields becomes, and is, a matter of great urgency to them," Joy added.

The Reds reiterated their insistence on the right to construct and repair airfields during a brief Monday meeting of the subcommittee on truce supervision.

The session ended abruptly after Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang accused the Allies of "intentionally delaying the negotiations" and trying to wreck the truce talks by insisting on prohibiting construction of military air bases.

Communist delegates again rejected a six-point Allied plan for exchanging prisoners of war and civilians.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby promptly submitted the plan again, and again explained it in detail.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho listened to Libby's explanation then commented: "No matter how eloquently you describe it, we cannot accept your proposal."

An official U. N. spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said Communist negotiators at Panmunjon appeared disinterested and lackadaisical, as though they were waiting for new instructions.

Hsieh, Col. Chang Chun-Tsai and their interpreters giggled, snickered or read magazines while Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner was re-stating the Allied position on airfield construction, Nuckols said.

Load Limits Cut For 3 Nearby Roads

State Highway Director T. J. Kauer today is ordering reduced load limits on Ohio roads connecting with the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Poland and Petersburg because "heavy truck traffic is causing considerable damage to these roads."

Roads slated for 25 per cent load reduction beginning mid-night Tuesday are:

Route 90 from the Pennsylvania line to Route 224 at Poland; Route 341 from the Pennsylvania line to Route 170, and Route 170 from Route 14 in Unity to Route 90 in Petersburg.

Guilford Lake Man Is Wounded By Gun

Russell (Buck) Baughman, 49, of Kuypers Landing, Guilford Lake was admitted to the Central Clinic about 5:30 p.m. Saturday with a shotgun wound in his left side. Questioned by doctors before being moved to the Southside Unit of the Youngstown City Hospital, he was unable to give a clear report of what happened.

Mrs. Eva Chapman, a neighbor, told Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman, Baughman stopped at her house with groceries shortly before the wounding and told her he was going home to clean his guns. Hartman said the wound was inflicted with a 20-gauge shotgun. He lived alone in his cottage.

His wife, Pauline, lives at 926 Ellsworth Ave.

Sledrider Dies; 9 Persons Hurt On Area Roads

Homeworth Boy, 12, Fatally Injured By Truck Near His Home

A 12-year-old Homeworth boy died in Salem City Hospital at 8:50 p.m. Saturday of injuries received at 4:35 p.m. when he was struck by a truck while sledding on the Georgetown-Homeworth Rd.

State Highway Patrolmen reported that the youth, Jacob Stoffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoffer of R.D. 1, Georgetown, was sledding in an alley near his home and was run over by a pickup truck driven by Richard Roth, 17, of R.D. 1, Waynesburg, when the sled coasted out into the highway.

Police and Red Cross officials said as far as they have been able to determine 14 were at home at the time of the fire and did not get out.

Two others were said to be in a fifth-floor bowling alley but police weren't able to verify that up to an early hour today.

All five floors collapsed into the cellar in a tangled mass of burning wreckage that firemen found impossible to probe immediately.

Fourteen other persons were injured, 12 serious enough to be kept at Noble Hospital. The other two were discharged after treatment.

Fire Chief Jeremiah A. Moriarty estimated property damage at "more than $1,000,000."

One of the walls collapsed at the height of the blaze and crashed through the roof of an adjoining one-story block of stores.

Make Heroic Rescues

Fire Chief Moriarty said there would have been many more casualties had it not been for the heroism of several firemen, policemen and onlookers who disregarded personal safety to carry tenants down fire escapes and ladders.

Robert L. Greaney, a navyman on leave; Chester Dawick, an air force man also on leave, and Mingo Grunier, were credited with saving five persons who were on the point of collapse when reached.

Greaney later re-entered the building but was forced back when flames burned the coat off his back and singed his hair.

He said that as he left the building the second time he could hear a woman shouting, "help me, I'm burning."

Dr. Harold Beattie said he heard the anguished screams for help from his home three blocks away.

William Baltrum, proprietor of the Colonial Inn at the rear of the building, said the structure seemed to be smoking at first and then a "great puff of flames" broke out on the third and fourth floors.

Jerry Murphy, who recently came here from Ireland, carried two women down a fire escape—one on each shoulder.

Service Clubs Meet Together Thursday

Paul Belcher, Akron banker and economist, will address a joint meeting of Salem's service clubs, Rotary, Lions, Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis, at noon Thursday in the Memorial Building.

He will speak on taxes, inflation and income.

Mr. Belcher is vice president of the First National Bank in Akron.

The Lions Club will hold its regular meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the Lake Hotel. The group will plan activities for the coming year.

The Lions Club will furnish bus transportation to the Lions convocation in Cleveland Feb. 21, if 20 members will attend.

Arrests Solve Burglary Series

Police End Crime Wave Of Two Salem Youths

Ten district burglaries and two car thefts were cleared up early this morning with the arrest by city police and Juvenile Officer Cornelius Csepke of a 17-year-old youth and Bernard Allen Wright, 20, both of Salem.

Among the loot recovered were two autos, four cases of silverware, ten pistols, tires, automobile parts and jewelry of every description.

The weird chain of events which led to the suspects' capture began at 12:30 a.m. when police received a call from Mrs. Nell Reed of 992 Fourth St. informing them that the 17-year-old youth who rented a garage from her had parked his car in the wrong compartment of the two-car structure. She asked police to have it towed away so that the rightful renter of the garage could use it.

Search Premises

Upon arrival Patrolmen James I. Irey and Raymond F. Hiltbrand found that the 1951 two-tone green sedan bore no license plates. Closer inspection of the premises revealed that four cases of silverware, two tires and some auto parts had been hidden in the garage.

The car was subsequently found to have been stolen from a Theodore Ogrey at Weirton, W. Va., Saturday night.

After discovering the hidden merchandise, the patrolmen called Juvenile Officer Csepke and the three of them proceeded to the younger boy's home on E. State St. He was not there, but at the rear of the house police found another car, a 1950 yellow sedan which has been listed as having been stolen in Sharon, Pa., Dec. 21. In the car police found ten revolvers of assorted caliber and several watches and other items of jewelry.

The officers then went to the address where Wright lived, 806 E. State St., but did not find the pair there. At approximately 2:30 a.m. as the patrolmen were cruising on State St. at Rose Ave., they saw a red convertible, which they recognized as Wright's car, go by.

Police Give Chase

The officers gave chase and forced the car to the curb in front of Gallagher's Service Station at 1041 E. State St. The boys were ordered out and police then searched the car, finding a loaded 32-caliber pistol under the front seat where the 17-year-old youth had been sitting.

Taken to the police station the prisoners confessed to stealing two autos and burglarizing ten area business establishments, but denied having taken part in any of the several burglaries committed recently in Salem or the immediate vicinity.

The 17-year-old youth admitted that he stole both cars and said that he and Wright together had broken into the stores. The two were taken to Lisbon where Wright was turned over to the sheriff's office and the younger fellow to juvenile authorities.

The places which the youths admitted burglarizing are: Freddie's Tavern, Washingtonville; Eagles Lodge, Columbiana; Shigler's Jewelry Store, Wellsville; North Heights Dairy in Unity; Feicht's Pontiac Garage near Lisbon; Cope Furniture Co., the Gun Exchange and a bowling establishment, all in or near Alliance; a Poland jewelry store, and a Mineral Ridge hardware store.

Freddie's Tavern was broken into Sunday night and all the other burglaries took place within the past several weeks.

Authorities revealed that the younger of the pair had served time in two corrective institutions in the past. Wright, who came here from West Virginia and had been employed at the Mullins plant, has no previous criminal record.

Authorities say that the lost recovered may total in value between $5,000 and $10,000.

Ohio Delegates Back Kefauver

Democratic Rep. Hays Makes Announcement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) announced today a complete slate of delegates will be entered in the Ohio Democratic primaries for Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) for the presidential nomination.

Hays made his announcement at a news conference.

Ohio law requires that a candidate for a party primary nomination enter his consent in writing before delegates may be placed upon the party ballot.

Asked if he had such a written approval from Senator Kefauver, Hays replied:

"I don't have it at the moment. But I have been in politics for 29 years and you'll just have to assume I know what I'm doing."

It was Hays who last month emerged from a White House conference with President Truman saying that the President would issue a statement by Feb. 6 telling whether or not he was a candidate for re-election.

The White House said Mr. Truman had not made any commitments about the date for announcing his intentions.

Hays told newsmen "there will be no repudiation of my action."

The announcement was the first open move to get the ball rolling for the Tennessee senator, who achieved nationwide prominence over the television networks during his hearing of the senate crime investigating committee. Kefauver was chairman of the committee.

Won't Actively Seek It, Though, Tells Backers

General Clears Fog Politically After Sen. Lodge Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chairman of himself a Republican ticket, made it clear he would accept that party's nomination if it is offered, but he said he won't actively seek it.

In a radio statement, the 61-year-old general swept away much of the fog of uncertainty that has resulted in the last few weeks about his place in the history of presidential nominations.

His statement was prompted by the statement made last week by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) who announced that Eisenhower's name would be entered in the March 14 New Hampshire presidential primary, and that there would be a "smoke fight" to win the Gold nomination for the general.

Construction Trends

Mobilization Program Causes Slump In New Home Building

WASHINGTON, (INS)—Fewer new homes are being built in more than seven out of every ten American cities this year as a result of the government's mobilization program.

And eight of the nation's ten biggest cities are in the middle of a sharp home building slump that threatens to worsen in the coming months as federal controls are tightened.

These facts were disclosed in the Bureau of Labor Statistics latest construction report covering home building operations during the first nine months of this year.

The BLS survey of 106 major cities indicates that while total housing production has held up at relatively high rates, home building is falling off sharply in many sections of the nation.

Of the cities studied, only 26 were reported producing more houses this year than in 1950 when an all-time record was established. Most of the remaining cities were far behind the housing volume achieved last year.

Government officials, who expected the cuts, say they do not look for any change in the trend except in critical defense areas where housing is urgently needed for production workers and military families.

THEIR FORECAST is supported by the sharp employment drop in the construction industry between mid-October and mid-November. BLS estimates building jobs dropped 110,000, more than twice the average decline recorded for the period during the past five years.

During the first nine months of this year, home building in the nation's ten biggest cities fell off 50 per cent in San Francisco, 33 per cent in New York, 45 per cent in Chicago, 38 per cent in Los Angeles, 55 per cent in Philadelphia, 45 per cent in Detroit, 49 per cent in Pittsburgh and 64 per cent in St. Louis.

The two remaining "biggest" cities showed increases. Housing output jumped four per cent in Washington, D. C., and 43 per cent in Boston.

Appropriately, home building at San Diego, Calif., the nation's number one critical defense area, was running 22 per cent ahead of the 1950 rate. A total of 4,919 new housing units were started in this area by the end of September as compared with 1,457 for the entire city of San Francisco.

THE NATIONAL association of home builders is considering a plan that would require its members to guarantee a house against defects for a specified period of time after the building is purchased.

NAHB officials say they think all builders should issue a certificate to a home buyer insuring the house against defective workmanship for at least six months and possibly a year.

Many firms are already following this practice but the builders' group would like to make it uniform throughout the industry.

The commerce department is joining with other government agencies in warning builders to prepare for serious shortages of metal building products next spring.

Commerce says that building materials have been in good supply this fall and winter, allowing a "high volume" of home building since Oct. 1.

But the department points out that output of metal products is falling and most builders are operating with items that were produced in record quantity earlier this year. Commerce says:

"The production of plumbers brass goods is running considerably below current consumption."

"And, if home building activity continues at the current rate, allowing for seasonal influences, inventories of such items as plumbers brass goods, copper tubing and galvanized pipe are expected to be down to minimum working levels by the time the spring building season opens."

Prospective Buyers See 'X-Ray Dwelling'

To show prospective buyers the high quality construction in a group of 318 houses erected in a Los Angeles, Calif., suburb recently, a West Coast building company opened for inspection an "X-ray house" which reveals cut-away portions of walls, floors and ceilings.

Visitors are given the opportunity to study details of construction and workmanship typical of the houses offered for sale. Thus they can see exactly what they would get for their money.

Officials of Milton Kauffman, Inc., the builder, says the enthusiastic public response to the idea has convinced them that home buyers today are becoming increasingly selective.

Among the quality construction features shown in the "X-ray house" are treated lumber for mud-sills and girders, termite shields of 260-gauge metal and oak floors over subflooring. A modern glass partition separates the dining area from the living room proper.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—Can you give me a list of climbing and spreading vines that will grow fast and cover a wire fence?—H.W.

A—The following plants will do well on a wire fence: Clematis paniculata, Dutchman's Pipe, Silver Lace Vine, Virginia Creeper, Akebia quinata and Climbing roses such as Silver Moon and Dr. Van Fleet.

Q—Are the colorful potted chrysanthemums now offered by the florists worth keeping for bloom next summer in the garden?—M. E.

A—Yes and no. While it is true that a few varieties of the chrysanthemums offered by the florists are the same as those grown outside, most of them are strictly for forcing and would be useless planted in the garden.

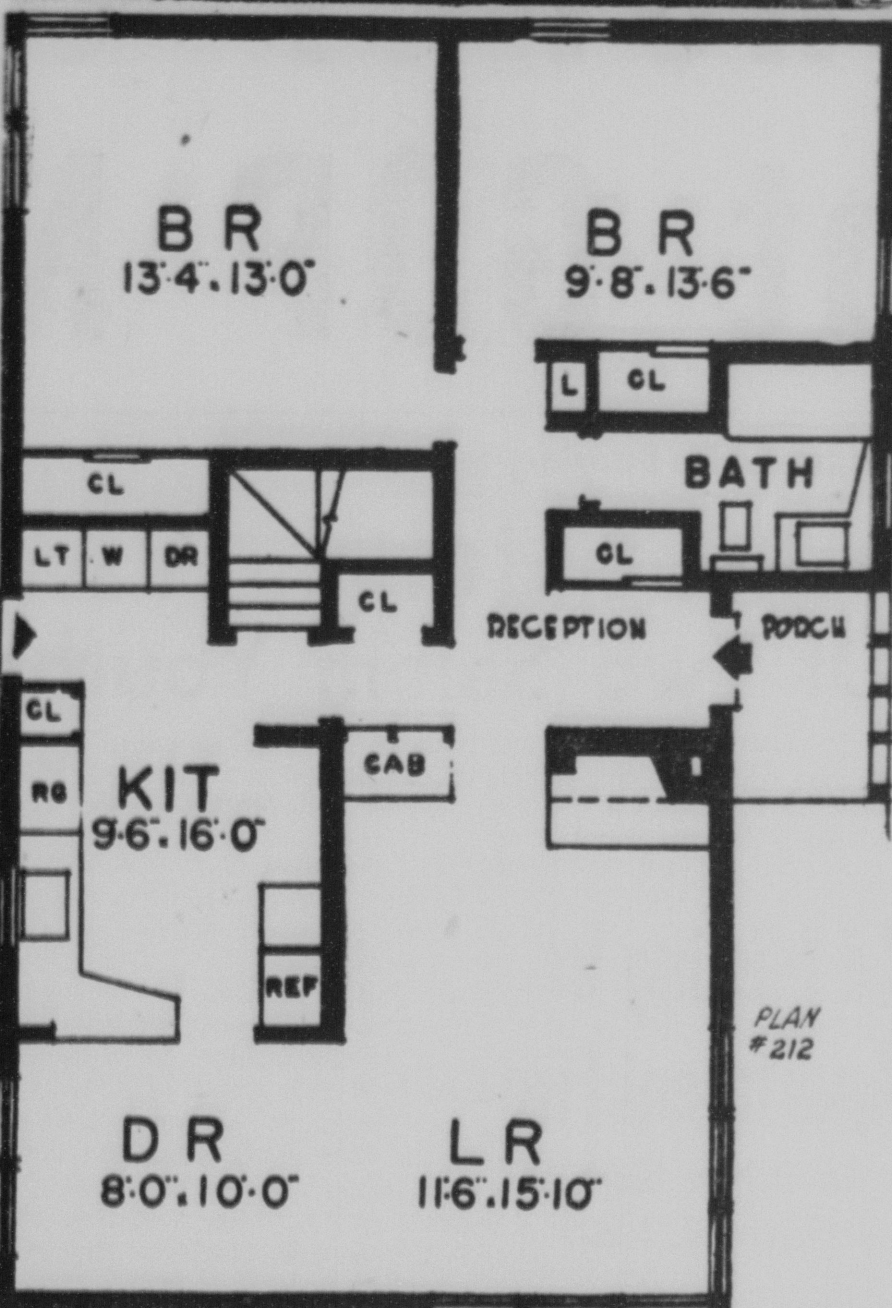

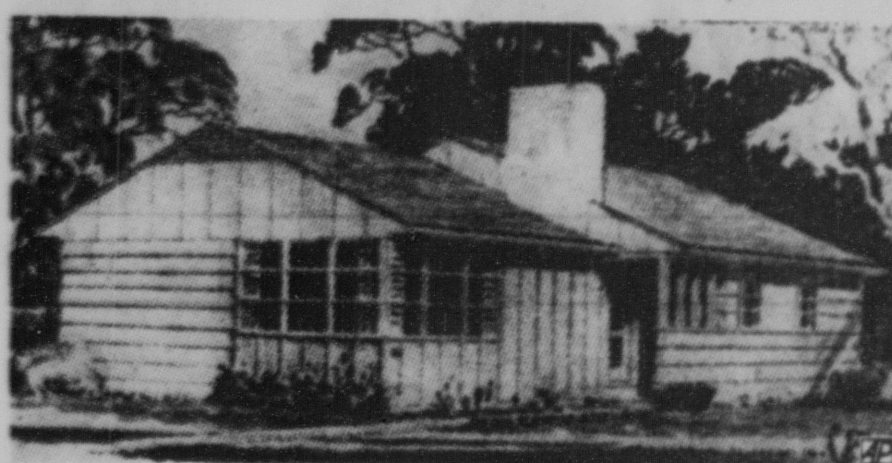

Q—Our house plants, a jade plant and African violets, are infested with something like dabs of cotton. What is it and what should be done to eradicate it?—W. D.

A—My guess is that the citrus mealy bug, which hides under the cottony substance, is sapping the strength of your plants. You can get rid of them by twisting a speck of cotton around a toothpick, dipping it in alcohol, and picking them off one by one. And spray with a pyrethrum-rotone solution every two weeks.

Q—English ivy, grown as house plants, has given us considerable trouble. Every plant starts well but soon dies, the leaves seem to yellow, get sticky, and in a few weeks are all dried up. Could this be due to improper care?—P. R.

A—English ivy is easy to grow indoors, provided it is given some sunlight, the soil wet thoroughly but once a week and the foliage moistened every 3 or 4 days. My guess is that you have overwatered the soil, failed to cleanse the leaves, and kept the plant in a sunless spot. Every two weeks syringe the foliage with a pint of soapy water to which a half teaspoon of Black Leaf 40 has been added. The pot in which ivy is grown should have a drainage hole in the bottom.

According to official records of the U.S. Weather Bureau, in February, 1899, the thermometer got down to two below zero at Tallahassee, Florida.

DESIGNED for a 40-foot lot, this modest home is only 28 feet wide, yet offers the advantages of a larger house. Plan 212 by Walter T. Anicka, architect, 617 Forest St., Ann Arbor, Mich. The house covers 1,020 square feet and contains 16,300 cubic feet with full basement. The kitchen is accessible to both front reception hall and service entrance. A service room, containing laundry equipment, provides added convenience. The architect recommends colored asphalt shingles for economy and hardwood veneers for sliding closet doors and modern cabinets.

Clean Surface When Painting Outside Metal

PAINTING exterior metal around the house, such as ornamental iron porch rails, canopy brackets and guttering demands careful preparation of the surface. This is often neglected and the paint applied over rust or damp spots on metal which just won't hold paint. The resulting job looks fine for a few days and then begins to peel off.

The surface of the metal must be clean and dry before paint will adhere to it permanently. If the metal is new, it must be cleaned of oil, grease or soldering compounds. This can be accomplished by using gasoline or turpentine. If the metal is old it is apt to be rusty and have loose paint on it. Old metal should be cleaned with a scraper or wire brush and all rust and loose paint removed. Be sure to get into all corners and around bolts and rivets where rust forms.

Finish the cleaning operation by going over the metal thoroughly with steel wool, then apply a coat of red lead. After the prime coat has dried, it may be covered with a coat of any color. Galvanized iron, such as is used for guttering and roofing, is coated with molten zinc to protect it from rust. This coating of zinc will not hold paint unless it is roughened.

An accepted method is to rub it thoroughly with steel wool. After the surface has been prepared, give it a coat of red lead followed by a coat of any color.

It isn't necessary to paint over the red lead inside the gutters since the red lead gives ample protection and can't be seen from the ground.

In painting window screens, a black auto dressing makes an excellent screen enamel. If your ornamental ironwork is fastened directly to the house, you may have noticed a rust stain running down from the fastening. Remove the screen or bolt which secures it to the house, and insert a rubber washer. This should be replaced once a year but will prevent a lot of staining

Clogged-Up Drains Easy To Clean Out

NOTHING is more irritating than a stopped-up or slow drain in the house. There are a number of commercial solvents that may be used on a stubborn drain. These often clean them out satisfactorily, but they must be used with great care as most of them contain lye which will damage linoleum or paint. Follow the directions of the manufacturer as printed on the container.

Occasionally the solvent isn't quite enough and mechanical means are necessary. If the trap under the drain has a plug on it, the thing to do is to remove the plug. But first be sure to place a pan under the hole. This should be large enough to catch all the water in the trap. Now remove the plug. Insert a wire hook into the drain hole and pull out the lint, hair, sediment or whatever else is stopping up the drain.

If the trap has no drain plug it will be necessary to open the pipe with a wrench at the joint before you can clean it out with the wire hook. Flush the trap out with water and replace.

Commercial solvents are less effective on large drains, such as toilet bowls, where it is usually necessary to resort to mechanical means such as the "plumber's friend." When this fails to move the obstruction, it is necessary to use a clean-out auger which is forced through the trap by turning the crank, always in the same direction. If the obstruction becomes entangled with the end of the auger it may be removed by withdrawing the auger.

The above measures are generally enough to open the most stubborn drain trap, but if a piece of glass or other insoluble substance becomes lodged in a toilet bowl it may be necessary to remove the bowl from the floor to get it opened up.

After the traps are clean and you find that the water still runs out slowly, the trouble may be in a connecting pipe from the trap to a vertical stack. If this connecting pipe is horizontal it is probably filled with sediment which must be removed either through a drain plug or if none, through an open joint of pipe.

Steel And Copper Shortages Limit Civilian Construction

THE NATIONAL PRODUCTION Authority has allotted steel and copper to be used in more than $16 million worth of construction in Ohio during the first three months of next year.

The NPA granted 25 applications for use of controlled materials in Ohio. Thirteen of the projects are religious buildings.

But the agency's Construction Controls Division turned down applications for scarce materials to be put into 90 other projects throughout the state in the first quarter of 1952.

NPA explained that the "high number of denials" was caused by the limited quantity of controlled materials—structural steel in particular—available for civilian construction "due to the impact of the defense program."

In listing the projects, the NPA did not indicate the amount of steel or copper asked for or allotted in each case.

Biggest project for which 1952 first quarter allocations were made in Ohio is a $6,520,000 building for the Union Central Life Insurance Co. at Cincinnati.

THE OTHER projects for which materials were allotted, listing the applicant, type of work, and estimated cost—in that order:

U. S. Steel, McDonald, Ohio, alterations to office buildings—$65,500; Temple Israel, Dayton, Jewish temple—$516,000; W. T. Grant Co., Canton, commercial building—$387,418; St. James A.M.E. Church, Cleveland, remodeling church—$180,000; Westwood Baptist Church, Dayton—$100,000.

Herman K. Wiehe, Cincinnati, church—$152,243; Chase Brass and Copper Co., Cleveland, office and warehouse—$357,100; M. DeBartolo Construction Co., Youngstown, shopping center—$7,915; Arthur G. McKee and Co., Cleveland, office—$45,000.

Benedictine Order of Cleveland, chapel—$828,536; David A. Kroll, Cleveland, synagogue—$110,000; National City Bank of Cleveland, office building—$39,500.

TOWN AND COUNTRY Drive-In Shopping Centers, Inc., Columbus, shopping center—$2,510,000; Greenfield-Mills Restaurant Co., Columbus, restaurant—$737,512; M. Marcus Building Co., Cincinnati, addition to a church—$275,000.

City of Euclid, police station—$359,974; United Properties, Inc., Columbus, shopping center—$895,000; The McBee Co., Athens, repairs to furniture store—$60,240; Lakewood Christian Church, Lakewood, church—$320,000.

St. Patrick's Church, Cleveland, church and rectory—$410,000; Ridgewood Methodist Church, Parma, church—$165,250; Holy Cross Church, Euclid, church—$500,000; Jerusalem Evangelical Lutheran Church, Columbiana, church—$128,346; Sisters of St. Francis, Tiffin, nunnery—$290,000.

Among the applications denied was a $188,000 project for alterations to the Ohio Capitol building at Columbus.

LARGEST projects among the list rejected for the first quarter of 1952 were these:

A $2,995,484 penal institution for the Department of Public Welfare, Marion; a $1,500,000 Franklin County court house at Columbus; a $1,000,000 YMCA building at Youngstown; $1,277,800 in additional residence space for the Toledo YWCA; a $1,192,700 office building for the Ohio Farmers Insurance Co., Leroy; $1,145,400 for shops, warehouse and garage for the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.; and a $1,157,000 office and warehouse project for William S. Moore, Inc., Newark.

Also among the casualties was a $453,233 municipal building for Barberton, a $788,761 detention home for juveniles at Cincinnati, a $498,600 city building for Cuyahoga Falls, two Cincinnati fire stations—one to cost $241,828 and the other $215,599.

A $110,000 project at the Ohio Penitentiary, Columbus and four water drainage and gutter projects at Dayton with a total cost estimated at $214,000.

NPA said denial of a project for the first three months of 1952 is not a final turn-down—merely a deferment.

Any applicant who failed to get an allotment of critical materials this time may file again for a later quarter.

"If the available supply of controlled materials has increased," NPA said, "permission to proceed may be granted."

Conventional Home Best Buying Bet

IN SHOPPING for a house, steer clear of those built at high cost with "freak" features, such as a different level for practically every room.

That's the advice of an appraisal expert in a recent issue of a publication for residential appraisers.

He lists two important reasons why an expensive home with extremely unusual features is not a good buy.

One is the difficulty in securing a mortgage, due to the fact that mortgage values are based on the saleability of homes to typical buyers. The other, closely related, is that the resale value of such a house may be very low if its unusual features were designed to suit the preference of one or just a few persons.

Builders and appraisers agree that a more conventionally designed home, provided it is constructed of quality materials and located in a well-established neighborhood, is a much better buy. In considering construction quality, these authorities say, it is wise to note the type of floors, for example, since the flooring is one of the most vital parts of a dwelling. Generally, a well-built home will be equipped with floors of oak or other hardwood.

Defense Workers To Get Neat, low-Cost Homes

"Come on my new house" will soon be greeting the defense workers living in the critical industrial center of Bucks County, Pennsylvania, where a new kind of defense-housing town is springing up.

In comfortable, but economical, contrast to the shanty towns of World War II, the homes in the garden community of Levittown will be three-bedroom, ranch-type houses equipped with all electric kitchen, three-way fire-place and exteriors with four different facades and a pastel color scheme—for a price tag of $9,990.

Other extras included in the basic price will be the thermopane picture windows and automatically controlled radiant heating.

The community also will have such facilities as parks, swimming pools, church and school sites. Construction on street, sewer and water systems is now well under way.

The Affenpincher, a dog originating in Germany, screams instead of barking.

Berlin Snafu

German Firms Which Receive Allied Aid Ship To Reds

By RICHARD S. WEILL

International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN (INS)—German industries, many owing their existence to aid from America, are directing a steady flow of vital materials to the Red arsenal nations of east Europe and Asia.

During the first eight months of 1951, legal exports from west Berlin alone to the Russian zone of Germany, the Soviet satellite countries and China, totaled more than 28 million marks (over $7-million)—one-fifth of Berlin's trade with the entire free world. All of West Germany during the same period sent more than $70-million worth.

Illegal trade with the East is estimated at four to ten times higher.

The preponderance of both legal and illegal shipments consists of "hard goods" essential to Russian militarization.

The legal exports, carrying the official approval of American and Allied as well as of German authorities, present an amazing picture.

Bills of sale obtained by this correspondent show, for example, that the Berlin firm of Schneider shipped thousands of dollars worth of special steel to the East German firm of Schaeffer and Budenberg, a Soviet corporation listed by the West German government as a producer of treads for Red army tanks.

Export Scarce Steel

The Ravens company, which has received Marshall aid, legally sent tons of scarce steel to the Sag Wolff-Buckau at Magdeburg, manufacturing Russian U-boat motors and tank parts.

The communications network of the East German police army consists primarily of radio equipment produced by the huge West Berlin Siemens corporation, one of the city's largest Marshall plan recipients.

Millions of dollars worth of machine tools, electro-technical devices, precision instruments, and optical goods suitable for military purposes have been shipped to Communist countries on Allied and German authorization.

Included are generators and dynamos for Hungary and Poland; wireless communication equipment for Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia; electric and mechanical precision gauges for China.

With Allied approval, West Berlin in the first half of 1951 sent to the East enough scrap metal for nearly 200 tanks—although a desperate shortage is gripping West Germany and west Europe, and the official U.S. German-language newspaper has been making appeals for public collections.

A great effort has been made by the responsible officials to differentiate between legal and illegal trade.

But such groups as the Investigating Committee of Free Jurists, one of the best intelligence organizations in Germany, declare that in their benefits to the Russians the two types are inseparable Siamese twins.

One proof of this is that the Russians are willing to pay premium prices and bonuses for "black" procurement of needed goods if they are not available legally.

Under an official interzonal trade agreement in 1950-51, East and West Germany exchanged around 350 million marks ($87½ million) in various kinds of wares, West Germany and Berlin primarily sending industrial equipment and products and receiving for the most part wood and textiles. A new agreement calling for an exchange involving about 482 million marks was signed to extend from October 1951 to next July. However, because of Soviet refusal to guarantee free access to Berlin at this time, it has not yet been put into effect.

Soviet Industry Night Collapse

As the agreement was being negotiated, numerous East German workers wrote clandestinely to West Germany and Berlin organizations begging that it not be signed. They declared that western western products (Soviet and American) would collapse and that the East would be "liberated."

Similarity and stress on the maintenance of exports to East Germany (Berlin products) were emphasized by the East German government in the "Communist" states.

Communist leaders in East Germany, including Walter Ulbricht, declared that the East German economy was "stronger" than the West German economy.

The East German government, which has been making appeals for public collections, has been making appeals for public collections.

that no "strategically important" materials are being passed.

City officials also state that Berlin receives such necessary products as soft coal from the East, without which neither homes nor industry would have sufficient fuel. They also declare that the trade is desirable because it provides employment for Berlin industries.

The view of the city officials is held, too, by Charles A. Dix, chief of the U.S. high commission trade branch who asserts that careful screening prevents shipment of critical materials to the East.

Ohio Farm Values Climb In Ten Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The farms in Ohio are worth more than $2,858,969,496 the Census Bureau says.

That was the figure the bureau arrived at as a result of its 1950 census.

This means Ohio farms increased in value $990,717,187 in the five years prior to the 1950 census.

The average value of Ohio farms in 1950 was $14,575, compared to $8,470 in 1945. The average value per acre was $136.34 compared to $85.

During the five years the number of farms declined from 220,575 to 199,359, and acreage shrunk from 21,927,844 to 20,969,411. The average farm had 99.4 acres in 1945 and 105.2 in 1950.

Farm products produced in 1949 brought farmers $709,509,632, compared to $532,714,132 for the 1944 season. Sales per acre averaged $33.83 from the 1949 operation compared to $24.29 five years earlier.

There were 1,782 farms in Ohio that had a revenue of $25,000 or more. There were 12,158 with a revenue of from $10,000 to $25,000, while 33,392 had revenue between $5,000 and $10,000. Farms with from $2,500 to $5,000 revenue numbered 39,851, while 30,620 farms had revenue of from $1,200 to $2,500.

Safety-Service Director

ALICE BARWOOD should succeed well in her new job as Salem's safety-service director.

The retired district manager of the National Gas Company has gained valuable experience in his years of service which included professional work with the city years ago in the engineering office.

His technical knowledge, plus his administrative ability, fits him well for the dual role he is assuming as head of the safety and service departments. He has the well-wishes of Salem Service Director C. E. Phillips, to whom retirement has come after 22 years of faithful service.

Mr. Barwood, at times, may find his new duties troublesome, but he nevertheless will see to it that the best interests of the community are served.

It is anticipated he will maintain close liaison with the police and fire departments in the realm of public safety. His orders will carry weight.

In the service department, he already is familiar with street problems.

Yes, Salem is fortunate to have a man of Mr. Barwood's ability as safety-service director. Mayor Vincent made a wise choice.

Stassen In The Picture

IN 1948, after the Dewey campaign managers had snatched defeat from the jaws of victory, a man named Amos J. Peaslee predicted Harold E. Stassen would be back in the political picture in 1952.

Peaslee had been Stassen's eastern campaign manager.

It is 1952. Stassen is back in the political picture. He is hoping the lightning will strike him for the Republican presidential nomination, which is his right. He has announced he is going after convention delegates in Ohio, Minnesota and Pennsylvania. That is also his right.

But in Ohio in 1952, as in 1948, the Stassen candidacy poses a question of political courtesy. By the same token that no one can keep him from running for a presidential nomination continuously because there is no law against it, no one can be expected to overlook a characteristic of Stassen's political behavior.

His to go out of his way to be discourteous to certain of his rivals while being more than courteous to certain others. He has done this with particular and peculiar emphasis in the case of Senator Taft. He could have had no other motive for coming into Ohio after delegates in 1948 and again in 1952.

In 1948, his challenge stirred Senator Taft into the kind of campaigning which won victory for him again in 1950 and in his strongest attribute as the Republican party's leading candidate for the 1952 presidential nomination.

Stassen has to be linked again in Ohio to someone like his discourtesy does not pay. It can be done. But it is unfortunate that it should have to be done merely to satisfy his peculiar animosity toward Senator Taft.

There is, after all, nothing Stassen possibly could prove by his delegate hunt in Taft's own state, except that he is that kind of a delegate hunter.

All The Powers That Be

ONE OF the tricks of politics is to make something seem to be so by saying it's so until no one questions it any more. This is necessarily the "big lie" technique used by Hitler; it may be only a little lie.

There will be many experiments with the trick in 1952. Some are in progress now. One involves the oft-repeated statement that if President Truman does not want the 1952 Democratic nomination he can bestow it on Fred M. Vinson, his friend, the chief justice of the United States.

The glib assumption does not take into account the rival aspirations of Democrats named Kefauver, Buckley, Kerr, Chapman, Johnson, Symington, et al. men strong enough inside the Democratic party to swing considerable weight. Neither does it take into account an even more important fact in politics as of 1952.

There is the fact there is no other Democrat besides Mr. Truman who can be described as a first-rank political figure, including Chief Justice Vinson. Circumstances have kept him in the obscurity which was the lot of all other Democrats while Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House. In recent years, with Mr. Truman in the White House, the chief justice has not even had the political advantage of standing in a long shadow.

All the powers that be could not raise Fred M. Vinson to presidential stature in the eyes of the voters. This specifically includes the repetition of the claim that President Truman could do it by the simple act of bestowing the nomination.

Alien Property

By PETER EDWARDS

Probe Covers I. G. Farben's U. S. Ties

WISCONSIN Sen. Alexander Wiley's surprise granting for the Department of Justice Alien Property Office under Harold I. Rogers is now aimed at big game.

The original target was to take potshots at Democratic administration favorites who got big deals as executives and lawyers for government-held alien properties seized during the war. This is bound to be good day pages shooting for the Republicans. If it were any less.

But now Senator Wiley's field of fire is broadening into a complete analysis of the extent to which I. G. Farben, the big German chemical trust, still is tied up with its former American subsidiaries.

They include General Aniline and Film, General Dyestuff and the Schering corporations.

Assets of these three companies are worth around 150 million dollars. Their U. S. properties were seized by the Alien Property Custodian in 1942 and the government still holds them.

Reports recently received by Senator Wiley's office indicate that General Aniline, through its sales agent General Dyestuff, has let contracts for a number of foreign distributorships. Key figures in these foreign sales agencies have been identified as former officials of the I. G. Farben chemical trust.

THIS MAY BE pure coincidence. But it has led Senator Wiley's staff to inquire into the extent to which the U. S. government has broken up the German trust's hold over its former American subsidiaries.

Main reason why General Aniline properties in the U. S. have not been sold by the Alien Property Office is that this has been blocked by a lawsuit. Plaintiff in the case is a Swiss holding company known for short as Interhandel corporation.

At the start of the war, Interhandel claims it owned majority stock control of General Aniline and its affiliated companies. General Aniline was organized as an American corporation, however, and its principal officers were Germans who had become naturalized American citizens.

It is the contention of the U. S. government that Interhandel was in reality a dummy corporation which was in turn owned by I. G. Farben. The Swiss holding company, it is claimed, was set up to conceal German ownership and so prevent seizure of I. G. Farben properties in the U. S.

under the alien property laws. If Swiss ownership can be proved in court, then the American government's vesting of General Aniline would be knocked out. This would prevent the Alien Property Office from ultimate sale of General Aniline properties and their nearly 3000 extremely valuable patents.

All this means a fascinating story of international high finance. In the interests of world trust busting, it should no doubt be thoroughly investigated and the record spread on open books.

As a matter of fact Senator Wiley doesn't even pretend to know all the answers on this case. Most of the preliminary investigation has been carried on by the Senator's office staff under smart young Julius Cain, while Wiley himself has been in Europe and Wisconsin.

When the Senator returns to Washington, however, he intends to introduce a resolution calling for a Senate Judiciary Committee probe of all Alien Property Office activities.

Senator Wiley is ranking Republican on that committee. Whether the Democratic majority would allow him to run the show is questionable.

IF THE investigation uncovers anything more than who has been riding on the alien property "gray train," as the Senate calls it, a big staff of lawyers and expert accountants will have to dig deep in corporation record books for many months. In an election year, the public may not be too interested.

There is one other factor which may explain a lot. When the resolution to end the state of war with Germany was before the U. S. Senate last October, Senator Wiley proposed an amendment.

It would have authorized the daughters of Ernest Harbach to bring suit against the U. S. government for recovery of shares in General Dyestuff, which they formerly owned but later sold to the Alien Property Office, through General Aniline.

Ernest Harbach was for many years president of General Dyestuff and an I. G. Farben manager in the United States.

Senator Wiley declares his amendment was merely a matter of service to enable a native-born American citizen to establish his rights in court. But the Senate refused to pass the Wiley amendment. Senator Wiley's interest in investigating the Alien Property Office began at that time.

January Thaw

By TRUMAN TWILL

IN JANUARY, as in no other month of the year, a citizen can catch up on peace and quiet.

All his money has been spent on Christmas. There has been such a violent exchange of hospitality that no one wants to see anyone else until spring anyway. The weather discourages any outside activity which can be postponed. It is too early to look at seed catalogs or to dream about baseball.

The lady of the house has not begun to think about housecleaning, and she already has moved the furniture in connection with putting up and taking down the Christmas tree.

It is not yet time to putter with the screens. There is no sense in beginning to monkey with lawn mowers. There is nothing to do in January, except relax.

This is done best, all things considered, by going to bed early with a good book or magazine, a pound of crackers, half a pound of cheese, a knife, an adequate supply of beverage and miscellaneous equipment.

The latter includes a clean handkerchief for cleaning eyeglasses, smoking supplies, a fire-extinguisher, a robe for draping about the shoulders and an extra book. This is to leaf through when it appears that the first book is not what the book reviewers cracked it up to be.

As soon as the crackers and cheese have been eaten and the beverage consumed, reading is optional. One may read, or one may lie comfortably with the book in reading position while stealing 40 winks which turn into 400 and finally add up to 4,000.

The question here is whether or not to turn out the light while this is going on. If the light is turned out, that is an admission of indifference to printed matter, whereas if it is allowed to stay on, that becomes a pretense of interest. One can always come to with a snort and pretend to be reading.

But on the whole it is reasonable to assume that in 99 per cent of all cases where bedroom lights are turned on for long periods in the evening the occupants of the rooms are utterly indifferent to the printed matter which is in reading position. Chances are, it is upside down.

More of this sort of thing goes on in January than in any other month. This is the joy and delight of the electric companies.

which always are left high and dry when the Christmas lighting season passes. But as long as they can depend on the January dopping-off-instead-of-reading season they will not be without prospects of profit.

The dopping-off season extends into February most years. Some harassed humans flee to Florida when their nerves fray out after the holidays. Some go to California, others to the West Indies, still others to the Hawaiian Islands.

The rest of us go to bed early—to read, it says here.

To Profit Is Not Anti-Christian

By GEORGE S. BENSON

THERE is a conspiracy working in America today which has as its first objective the building up of public resentment against the profit motive. The hidden powers in this conspiracy are the Communists and the Socialists. They wish to destroy public acceptance of the profit motive, as the first fatal step in destroying the American capacity for production which has made America the strongest nation in the world.

Norman Thomas, head of the American Socialist Party for the past 20 years, says, "The American profit system can only be prolonged under the impetus of mass insanity and the brutality of fascism." William Z. Foster, head of the American Communist Party, says substantially the same thing.

Such public statements from the heads of the two movements seeking destruction of the American way of life won't surprise many people. But it may be surprising to learn that the same attack on the profit system is being carried on, either unwittingly or through cleverly planned propaganda writings, in some influential church literature and widely used school and college textbooks.

As this column is being written, I have before me an educational booklet published by a leading church. It denounces the profit motive and calls for the elimination of the profit system. The booklet says: "The profit motive tends to excite the explosive impulses, glorifies selfishness and rewards graft." It recommends a "profitless" production-for-use system with the government owning and operating the facilities of production and distribution, precisely as is advocated by Thomas and Foster.

IN MOST CASES such attacks on our American profit system in church literature stem from sincere but misguided idealism among the clergy or whoever writes the literature. However, some of it comes from calculating conspirators. All of it helps push America along toward the objectives of Socialist Thomas and Communist Foster. The few churchmen who openly attack the profit motive contend that it is un-Christian, out of harmony with the teachings of the Bible. In this they misrepresent the Bible.

The profit motive may be said to be one of God's own laws. In a sense it is the "reward motive," operating within the natural law of compensation which is basic in economics and in our spiritual life. Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote, on the Law of Compensation: "Human labor, through all its forms, from the sharpening of a stake to the construction of a city or an epic, is one immense illustration of the perfect compensation of the universe. The absolute balance of Give and Take, the doctrine that everything has its price, is not less sublime in the budgets of states, in the laws of light and darkness, in the laws of the action and reaction of nature."

JESUS SAID (Mark 10:28-30): "There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's, but he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions, and eternal life."

THE BIBLE teaches that the Christian use of profits requires sharing. And yet here again the Law of Compensation is shown to rule: the man who does not share his good fortune with another misses the spiritual rewards which are far greater than the material ones. Nowhere in the Bible is there a suggestion that a person should be forced—by another individual, or an organization, or the government—to share his earnings or his savings. Force is not a tool for making Christians. And the profit motive is not a man-made law; it is the driving incentive in the spiritual as well as the material life. Heaven itself is the reward for a Christian life.

Thrombosis Demands Prompt Attention

A CLOT or obstruction in one of the blood vessels supplying the heart muscle is called a coronary thrombosis or coronary occlusion.

An attack of coronary thrombosis can cause sudden death quite unexpectedly as in the case of Mrs. D. brother, who was found in his room.

Mrs. D. said "his room was only a few yards from mine, but I did not hear a sound. He had not known he had a bad heart, nor did we. He was 55 years old, and had been active up to that time."

Tragic occurrences of this kind happen all too often but there are an enormous number of people who have suffered a coronary thrombosis and who have recovered to a remarkable degree.

Any living tissue which is deprived of its blood supply will die. Consequently, that portion of the heart which is supplied by a blood vessel which is shut off by a clot will perish.

If the area involved is a large one, therefore, the heart cannot continue and this is why sudden deaths occur.

If the area is small and the heart is allowed to rest, two things begin to happen. The heart muscle which has been killed is replaced gradually by strong scar-like tissue.

Also, other blood vessels begin to take over some of the functions of the closed-off coronary artery so that a new blood supply becomes established.

sisters, and mothers and children and lands . . . " The Master here was speaking specifically of material profits—a hundredfold!

The apostle James dealt with a business situation embodying the profit motive and he did not criticize it. Some people (James 4:13-16) were boasting that they were going into the city to buy and sell and make profit for a year, and the apostle addressed them thus: "Ye know not what shall be in the morrow. Ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this or that . . ." The rebuke was for ignoring the power of God over their lives; no criticism was made of the avowed plan to make profit.

THE BIBLE teaches that the Christian use of profits requires sharing. And yet here again the Law of Compensation is shown to rule: the man who does not share his good fortune with another misses the spiritual rewards which are far greater than the material ones. Nowhere in the Bible is there a suggestion that a person should be forced—by another individual, or an organization, or the government—to share his earnings or his savings. Force is not a tool for making Christians. And the profit motive is not a man-made law; it is the driving incentive in the spiritual as well as the material life. ## Thrombosis Demands Prompt Attention

A long period of rest in bed must be faced by the victim of a coronary thrombosis. For best results this period of rest must be followed by slowly increasing activity—also for a long time.

If the other portions of the coronary arteries are in reasonably good condition, the heart can make a good recovery from the damage which it has suffered.

This is, of course, true particularly in those who have suffered a coronary thrombosis comparatively early in life.

Of course, carelessness about health or unrestrained activity is not justified, but it should be remembered that many victims make remarkably good recoveries.

There are probably some who have suffered an attack of coronary thrombosis who have not even known that they have had such an attack.

But, the symptoms are usually severe enough, consisting of pain, paleness of the skin and weakness so that medical help is obtained promptly.

Expert advice is extremely important as the pain may disappear in a short time even without treatment and give a false sense of security. Doubtless many tragedies result from ignoring such warning signals.

Filipinos Hard Hit By Storm

A YOUNG NUN today told how the stone walls of an old parish church saved hundreds of lives during a typhoon that laid waste much of the Philippines last month.

The tempest, the most terrible in the memory of the islanders, was described by Sister Maria Constantia Poma in a letter of appeal to the Very Rev. Utric Arnauld, apostolic missionary of the Philippines, whose headquarters are in St. Paul, Mass.

"The night of the deluge was very sickening—It was drive you crazy if you don't stop thinking about it," she wrote in a graphic and without account of the storm.

Sister Maria Constantia is a teacher in Assumption College in Cebu, a town of 10,000 population on the island of Sumatra in the hard-hit central Philippines.

SHE SAID the fury of howling winds and tidal waves had left almost the entire population of the town homeless, penniless and without proper food and clothing. Some of other towns are in the same plight.

"Cebu now is like Manila after the typhoon—all in ruins," she wrote. "It is hard to describe in words . . ."

Nearly five per cent of the houses were carried into the Pacific by the angry waves or crushed down to total ruin. All our night big quonset huts which the U. S. Army left in 1945 were totally destroyed . . . not a post standing."

And then she described how the stone wall of a centuries-old church shielded hundreds "as a fortress."

"We sisters couldn't stay standing up during the great disaster, for the walls were falling and the roofs flying," her letter continued. "The nuns joined townspeople who had crowded by the hundreds into the parish church."

MEN, WOMEN, children and babies were there—crying, shouting, praying, moaning with pain on account of the windows and doors of the church being blown down and hitting people. Broken window glass flew over our heads."

Torrential rains and a 125-mile-an-hour wind filled the church with a thick fog, although it was daylight, she said, adding:

"That time was the crisis—from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. We couldn't see each other because of the fog, and nothing could be heard but the roaring of the winds and the cries of pain."

"I thought it was the end for everyone. Each one was just waiting for his death. So was I. But I really did not get scared. . . I was willing to die. I was just waiting for the walls of the church to crumble over us, and then we could have passed on to eternity. Wouldn't that be a nice death?"

At the height of the typhoon the parish priest gave the blessed sacrament to the dead, died through . . . and after that there was silence from the crowd, but the winds roared on.

"GROUPS OF PEOPLE were blown away, I myself, was blown and dragged off by the winds from the sanctuary to the sacristy. I tried hard to return near the altar, but the winds seemed to have parted me to the sacristy wall. We were all wet for hours and hours."

When the storm at last subsided, the survivors emerged to find their homes destroyed, many relatives dead beneath the wreckage or swept out to sea. Noting with a sore heart that "among the casualties were many of our 1,600 students," Sister Maria Constantia wrote: "We have to begin from scrap again."

In making public her letter, Father Arend said the resources of the Philippine Red Cross were "obviously inadequate" to heal the wounds left by "a calamity involving some six-and-a-half million victims."

"We may also take into consideration," he observed, "the fact that these poor people were our most faithful, our only allies in the Far East during the last war."

"Hot Flashes" Stopped or strikingly relieved

In 63-80% of cases in doctors' tests • If you're miserable from the "hot flashes," and accompanying irritable, restless feelings of "change of life"—you may be suffering unnecessarily! • For... in tests by doctors... Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets brought relief from such functionally-caused suffering to 63% and 80% (respectively) of the women tested! Complete or striking relief! • Yes! Research has proved these medicines thoroughly modern in action has shown you where to look for relief from those distressing, nervous, "out of sorts" feelings of mid-life "change"! So... get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—or one, improved Tablets, with added iron! (Wonderful, too, for the functional pains of menstrual periods.) • It acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of those awful "hot waves"!

Mrs. Donald Starbuck is juvenile matron and John Vincent was named to the executive committee. Mrs. John Hollinger and Mrs. Lester Burton will serve on the flower committee. The members enjoyed a coverdish supper prior to the meeting. The next meeting will be Jan. 18.

Home Nursing Class To Start Tuesday Session 1st In Series

COLUMBIANA—With an enrollment of 12, the civil defense home nursing class will have its first session Tuesday evening. This will constitute the course.

It had been intended to accommodate a class of not more than 12, but if interest justifies, a second class may be formed for another series of six sessions.

A decision will be reached tomorrow evening whether to hold more than one meeting a week. Sessions will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the American Legion home on North Pearl St. The instructor will be Mrs. Paul Cline, assisted by Miss Miriam Wilson.

Organization of a civil defense first aid class for women has not been completed. It is planned to have the meetings in the High School building, with Mrs. John Gilchrist as instructor under the direction of C. E. Garside of the East Palestine chapter of the Red Cross. Persons interested may call Mrs. Gilchrist or Miss Helen Lindsay, director of health in the defense organization.

IN THE Inter-County League, the Town Club of Columbiana Hi-Y will play Lisbon here tonight, and the Senior Hi-Y will go to North Lima. The Clippers play East Palestine here Friday night.

THE PENNSYLVANIA Railroad Co. has torn down the shed that sheltered for nearly 50 years the old platform more than 150 feet long at front of the station. Some after the turn of the century, the shed was moved here from the Beaver Falls station at as a result of a change there. It was knocked down in 1910, before it was protected by a bumping block, when a box car was pushed past the end of the station switch and crashed into it, snapping off each of the 12 supporting posts close to the pavement.

The posts having been still of sufficient length, the shed was set up again and did duty for 40 more years.

TOMORROW will be the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hisey, 349 Union St., but on account of the health of Mrs. Hisey, there will be no special observance.

Mrs. Hisey, who was Miss Birdie Renkewitz of East Leontown, and Mr. Hisey, a resident of Columbiana, were married here Jan. 8, 1902, by Rev. R. E. Foster of the Presbyterian Church.

They have three sons, Everett of Syracuse, N. Y., Harry of Cleveland, and Donald of Columbiana, and a daughter, Catherine, at home. Grandchildren are Mary and Corrine Hisey of Aurora, N. Y., Bobby Hisey of Leontown, N. Y., and Mrs. George Ziegler of Salem. George Ziegler, 31, of Salem is a great-grandson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hisey have lived on Union St. their entire married life. He has been a member of the Columbiana fire department nearly 50 years, and is now in his 53rd year as chief.

Public health will be the subject of consideration at the meeting of the Rotary Club this evening, when Mrs. Sybil Depgan, Columbiana county field supervisor, Mrs. Laura Clark, county supervisor of nursing, and Mrs. Dorothy Diamond, Columbiana and Leontown school nurse, will be the speakers. Ross Melinger is program chairman.

Ted O'Connor, police officer of the juvenile department in Youngstown, will speak on juvenile delinquency at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club this evening.

Columbiana Social Notes. The Music Boosters' Club will meet in the music room of the High School building at 8 p.m. today, when plans will be made for the appearance of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube chorus in the High School auditorium Wednesday evening, Jan. 23. The club will benefit its promotion work.

British And U. S. Talks Progress

Churchill, President Stress Cooperation

WASHINGTON (AP)—High policy talks between President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill move into the second and more earnest stage today with a frank appraisal of Anglo-American differences over several world danger spots.

The two chiefs of state with a full panel of advisers on each side were scheduled to meet at the White House in two sessions today.

Two more of these full working sessions are slated for tomorrow, after which a public statement on results will be issued.

The groundwork for the full dress meetings was laid in a series of get-acquainted sessions which the President and Prime Minister held Saturday, following Churchill's arrival here.

A 75-minute conference of the two leaders and their top advisers aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg after dinner Saturday night was described by White House Press Secretary Joseph Short as having been on "the friendliest basis."

Mr. Truman, presiding at the head of the table in the ship's dining compartment, led off the discussion in which Churchill, British Foreign Secretary Eden, U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, Treasury Secretary Snyder and Defense Secretary Lovett all spoke in some detail.

There was no official disclosure of what they said, but authorities indicated they generally emphasized the importance of Anglo-American cooperation.

The discussion reportedly brought out as problems to be dealt with such issues as relations with Red China (which Britain recognizes); the Anglo-Iranian dispute over oil which United States officials have regarded much more fearfully than the British as a potential source of new Russian trouble; and the British-Egyptian row over Suez Canal guard force, and the Sudan, which the United States also regards as a source of possible Russian trouble.

Brooklyn Housewife Mother Of Quads

NEW YORK (INS)—A 32-year-old housewife gave birth to quadruplets this morning in Brooklyn's Bushwick Hospital. Mrs. Fannie Greber and her three girls and one boy were reportedly in "good condition."

"It's a surprise. It's all news that indicated that Mrs. Greber 32, the father, when told of the multiple births. There are three other children in the Greber household.

Frequent X-ray examinations had indicated that Mrs. Greber would give birth to more than one child.

The infants, weighing from three pounds four ounces to four pounds three and a half ounces, took 20 minutes to deliver. Hospital authorities placed the babies in an incubator.

Mental Patient Kills Wife, Self With Rifle

NORWALK (AP)—Coroner Charles Edel has ruled Elva B. Caruthan committed murder and suicide while on a three-day pass from Toledo State Mental Hospital.

Both of Caruthan, 37, and his wife, Bertha, 39, were found yesterday at their farm near here. Each had been shot in the head by .22-caliber bullets from a rifle found at Caruthan's feet.

Sheriff's deputies said the deaths probably occurred Saturday.

The United States, which has more miles of railroad than all of Europe and Asia, is not in top place for railroad miles per population. Canada has 45.4 miles of railroad for each 10,000 inhabitants; Argentina and Australia, 38 miles each; Newfoundland (now a Canadian province) 34; Czechoslovakia 27.8; and then comes the United States with 21.

A ham dinner was served.

LEONTONIA—The local Library Board took action at the last meeting that will mean a new library building in Leontonia in the future.

According to a newly-enacted law, library boards are now permitted to set aside a portion of the money they receive from the state for "Building and Repairs."

The board has taken action to set up a "Building Fund" and each year a certain amount of money received will be put into the fund. Paul C. Otto, president of the board, announced that no active campaign for funds would be made.

Other members of the library board are Frank Aiken, treasurer and clerk; Mrs. M. J. Gaughan, secretary; Mrs. Francis Brennan, Mrs. Nellie Conrad, H. Ross Mellinger, Sr., and Mrs. E. L. Girard of Washingtonville.

Carlson, Freighter Half-Way To Port

LONDON (AP)—Unsinkable Capt. Kurt Carlson and the Flying Enterprise were halfway to haven today.

At 8 a.m. the tug Turmoil and the gale-crippled American freighter she is towing were reported 152 miles from the Cornish port of Falmouth. The tug hoped to make port sometime Wednesday.

Carlson's heroic stand with his near-sinking vessel—which he refused to leave—had started some 300 miles west of the English coast, where the Flying Enterprise almost capsized in the worst Atlantic storm in 50 years.

The U. S. Destroyer Willard Keith, escorting the tug and her charge, reported the little convoy's 8 a.m. position and said "condition of Enterprise unchanged."

Heavier weather earlier had forced the tug to take a zig-zag course to ease the strain on the tow.

The battered Flying Enterprise today was almost flat on her port side, but still "being towed well," the Turmoil's radio operator said in a radio telephone call to the Associated Press. He reported Capt. Carlson "more confident than ever" that his battered ship would reach a safe harbor.

Cuyahoga County Tops Acre Profits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cuyahoga County farmers made more money per acre than other Ohio farmers in 1949, the Federal Census Bureau reported yesterday.

The bureau said Cuyahoga farmers averaged $104.16 for each acre of ground, according to the 1950 census. Their farms were valued at an average of $747.08 per acre, compared with $382.39 five years ago.

The bureau ranked Lake, Lucas, Fulton and Hamilton counties after Cuyahoga in that order in returns per acre.

Twenty-seven other Ohio counties with high dollar revenue per acre were as follows: Miami, Henry, Drake, Montgomery, Clark, Wayne, Clinton, Franklin, Wood, Putnam, Lorain, Mercer, Auglaize, Preble, Madison, Summit, Champaign, Sandusky, Fayette, Stark, Allen, Erie, Butler, Shelby, Hancock, Van Wert and Pickaway.

Other Ohio counties of high production were Hardin, Ottawa, Medina, Warren, Union, Crawford, Williams, Marion, Wyandot, Mahoning and Fairfield.

DEER SURVEY BEGUN

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Wildlife Division today started an aerial deer survey in 12 counties to determine deer population trends in the state. Two planes will be used to cover Ashtabula, Lake, Portage, Median, Huron, Columbiana, Holmes, Harrison, Noble, Vinton, Licking and Adams counties.

O.S.U. PROFESSOR DIES

She lost one son in World War II and has another in the Civil Air Patrol.

Farmers Will Get Help With Records

Mahoning County farm record keepers who want help in completing their past year's record or in setting up new records for 1952 can get help from the Extension Service by going to Dublin Grange Hall, near Canfield Thursday evening, Jan. 17, between 6:30 and 7:30.

R. B. Schwartz of the Rura Economics Department of the Ohio State University and the extension agents will be there to help record keepers at that time. Farmers who want to protect themselves must make accurate income tax returns.

Farmers who keep complete records and turn them in to the Extension Service for summarizing receive a free analysis and comparison of their farming business with other farms of the same type in this area.

At 8:30 Mr. Schwartz will lead a discussion of Mahoning County dairymen on "Cowherd Economics." Mr. Schwartz will point out the ways that dairymen can economize to meet rising costs.

Retail Outlook Good; Taxes, Costs To Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Better retail business is in prospect for this spring but most merchants will have to work a lot harder to get it, delegates to the 41st annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association were told today.

This statement came in a report on a survey undertaken by the NRDGA in which 400 department, chain and specialty stores were questioned. A majority of those polled said higher taxes and increased costs of doing business will constitute a "serious threat to the profit picture" in 1952.

In view of less favorable profit prospects, many merchants are planning an "all-out war" on expenses this year, the association said. Economies such as curtailed delivery service are being seriously considered, it added.

Other methods suggested by retailers for trimming costs include increased employee productivity, work simplification and streamlining of store procedures, more selective promotion processes, consolidation of freight shipments and pooling of customer services, the survey said.

5-Month Old French Cabinet Collapses

PARIS (AP)—Premier Rene Pleven's five-month-old cabinet collapsed tonight.

The French National Assembly ousted the coalition government after hearing a final plea from Pleven for a freer hand to deal with the economic situation in this hard-pinched country.

The defeat came on his demand for power to cut the 140 billion franc (400 million dollars) deficit of the nationalized railway system.

The Socialists, which have supported the cabinet on most issues, broke away on this one. Many of the railroad workers are Socialists and the party leadership feared economies on the roads would result in large scale firings, and so decided earlier today to oppose the government demands.

BOARDWALK HOTELS BURN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A wind-whipped fire close to Atlantic City's famed boardwalk burned through three unoccupied frame hotels today, destroyed eight houses and threatened nearby stores.

The flames, soaring 100 feet into the air, roared through the seven-story Congress and five-story Loraine hotels on St. Charles Pl.

NAVY SHIP TAKES A BOW

CRUISING near the coast of Korea one day, the destroyer USS Small suddenly rammed into a mine. The blast loosened the ship's bow which began to shake itself to pieces, endangering the rest of the vessel. A damage control crew, acting like skilled surgeons, sealed off a compartment just astern of the break by closing hatches and other openings. The captain then backed the ship away from the bow to break it loose. The water-tight bulkhead (wall) held out the seas while the ship streamed to Japan for emergency repairs. A temporary bow was put on and the ship headed to the United States for an overhaul.

Bow of the destroyer USS Small is beginning to break away after the ship ran into a mine.

The anchor chains are visible as the bow continues to drop off the port side of the ship.

Destroyer backs slowly toward Japan where temporary repairs will make ship seaworthy.

Temporary bow is fitted to the ship so it can go to the United States for permanent repairs.

Bobcats Suffer 2nd Loss To Canfield

The Canfield Cardinals captured their ninth straight victory of the season Saturday night in Canfield as they defeated Greenford for the second time this year, 54-34.

Greenford's two games against Canfield are the only pair the Bobcats have dropped this season while winning eight games.

The Bobcats took a 15-10 quarter lead on Canfield and then went without a tally in the second period while the Cardinals racked up 18 markers.

The Cardinals gained five more points in the third period as they out scored the losers, 14-9, and also in the final stanza, 12-10.

Rodney Payne, Loren Less, Don Tate and Keith West led Canfield to the win, the former two tallying 12 points apiece and the latter pair caging 11 markers apiece.

The Canfield Reserves also capped a victory in the preliminary

Bomar Urges Bowlers to Have Class C Results

Their Own Ball, Bag and Shoes

CUSTOM-FITTED—Only by constantly using the same equipment can you progress, says Buddy Bomar.

BY BUDDY BOMAR
Former Match-Game Champion
(First of a Series)

It's possible to bowl without owning any equipment. Your bowling proprietor has balls you can use and shoes you can rent.

If you are serious about improving your score, however, or want to enjoy the sport to the fullest, buy your own ball, bag and shoes.

Only by constantly using the same equipment can you make definite progress.

Your alley proprietor will help select the proper equipment to fit your needs and wallet.

He will see that a ball is custom fitted to your hand with the proper size thumb and finger holes and finger span.

Using a ball which has not been custom-fitted, you are almost certain to run into difficulties. Finger or thumb holes of the wrong size put additional strain on your fingers, wrist or arm, prevent you from scoring well and enjoying bowling as you should.

Selecting street shoes, you certainly insist on a comfortable fit, don't you? There's no difference in choosing bowling shoes.

While the bag is not necessary to improve your game, it is a convenience in carrying your ball and shoes.

Just as every golfer knows he can't develop his game to any extent without his own clubs, you cannot expect to improve your bowling very greatly without proper equipment.

Senior Bowl Claimed Success; North Wins

MOBILE, ALA., (AP)—The Senior Bowl football series, after a risky and unsuccessful start, is a complete success and for the first time the novel game looks like a permanent January sports feature.

After the game Saturday which the North team won 20-6, J. Finley McRae, Senior Bowl president, said the success was assured and then some.

The "then some" he referred to was net profit, 20 per cent of which will be divided among the 30 college players who put on the big show in Ladd Stadium Saturday.

Members of the winning team were given $500 each and South team members received $400.

HEY, DAD!—How many times have you heard Mom say, "I just haven't an appetite—I'm so tired of eating my own cooking." Mom's cooking is good but she'd just like to have someone else prepare a meal and wait on her for a change. 3 meals a day—7 days a week! It gets monotonous. Treat her to a TOWN HALL DINER Sunday Family Dinner. They're "fit for a Queen!"

Degrees To Be Given By Perry Grangers

Members of Perry Grange will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday when candidates will be obligated in the first and second degrees.

The quarterly party for members who had birthdays in October, November and December will be held and a play, which will be presented at the Farmer's Institute, also will be previewed. The name of the production is "The Shock of His Life."

HOUSEWIFE ROBBED
CLEVELAND (AP)—A fake "Western Union" messenger persuaded Mrs. Mary Martin, 48, to open her door Saturday night, she told police. Then, she said, he bound her and escaped with $2,000 in cash. He was assisted by two other hoodlums who appeared from the shadows.

The Ems Dispatch is the historical name of the communication which precipitated the Franco-Prussian war. It was issued from Ems by Bismarck in 1870.
